

Booklet #4

*Your year, your time in the study,
and your expert opinion*

We know you've been doing a lot of surveys, and we really appreciate it! You may have noticed, however, that none of them are really asking you to share your ideas and opinions.

Your perspective is important.

How you feel about the systems around you, what's worked for you, the ways institutions have helped you or made your life harder...that is all really, really important stuff. In order to advocate for a system that actually works, we need your input.

This booklet is optional!

It's an opportunity for you to help us see what we are missing and be a part of something very big (we hope!).

Have a look at the consent info at the back if you are okay with us using your answers here to try and make the world a better place. If you would rather keep your responses private, that's okay too!

Has your life changed in terms of finances, relationships, how you see yourself?

what's different in your life since we first met?

why did you originally agree to participate in the study?

why did those changes happen?

what made you keep coming back?

How helpful were these supports?

Fill in the number of stars you'd give each one. If you want to, please tell us why you liked it or didn't like it!

offered?

about participating in this study?
(a conversation, a memory, a feeling?)

Who was your Community Connector?

Aside from helping you complete surveys, did they provide any extra support that was useful?

e.g. emotional support, helping you find community resources, government applications, setting up bank account, etc.

Did you like working with them?
Why or why not?

Anything else we should know?

What question do you wish we'd asked?
(what would your answer have been?)

We can bring your knowledge and insight to a bigger audience.

Your input can help people understand what we need to do to better support everyone in our community. It can be shared with decision makers and leaders to make sure they see how policies affect real people. It can guide our future research. It can help us in our efforts to advocate for change and help us explain to people we rely on for funding exactly what is needed on the ground and why research into innovative solutions is important.

It's up to you.

Tell us what you want us to do with your answers:

- ☐ Use them to help guide FSC's future research projects
- ☐ Use them in communications to the people who fund our work
- ☐ Use them to support FSC's political/social advocacy campaigns
- ☐ Use them to show the impact of and need for FSC's work
- ☐ Do NOT use my responses for anything, just read them
